OUTSTANDING 4-H'ERS HONORED...The outstanding senior 4-H members in Coffee County for 1987-88 were honored this week by the Elba Rotary Club, at the club's regular weekly meeting. The Elba Rotary Club has made the honors ceremony an annual event and at Monday's meeting presented the honored 4-H'ers with gold watches for their accomplishments in the program. Receiving the watches were Stacy Phillips, a senior at New Brockton and Brett Bryan, a senior at Elba.

Bryan has shown steers, participated in livestock judging, woodworking exhibits and automotive driving activities as part of his 4-H activities, while Phillips has been on the meat judging team and has participated in electric demonstrations and a number of food programs. Both are members of the Coffee County Gold Key Fraternity.

New Crimestoppers number in Elba is 897-3881

The Coffee County Crimestoppers program has been active in Coffee County for a number of years and has been instrumental in solving numerous crimes across the county. As the county has grown, so has the program, and recently the program added a telephone number in Elba for residents to use in the battle of fighting crime.

"The Crimestoppers program was originated to help reduce crime in Coffee County," stated county chairman Al Smith, "and the intent of the program is to obtain confidential information from anonymous callers to help law enforcement officials solve crime. Callers, which are given code numbers to insure they remain anonymous, are eligible for awards up to $1,000 and law enforcement officials use the tips from the callers as an investigative lead in solving cases. This year alone awards have ranged from $25 to $750 and the money comes from private donations and through fund raising events."

Smith, an assistant District Attorney in Coffee County, reported that the Operational Committee of Crimestoppers is consisted of three residents of each town in the county and three members from the county at-large. Members of the various law enforcement agencies serve as advisory members and carry no voting power, as do the committee members.

Members of the committee from Elba include Smith, Kris Scarborough and Fred Moore, while New Brockton is represented by Katherine Holley, Rhonda Davis and Gene Strickland. There are no active members from Kinston at the present time.

"As an assistant District Attorney and a resident of Elba I felt the Crimestopper number was badly needed in Elba," said Smith. "I am greatly concerned about the rising drug problem in Elba, especially cocaine, as well as the open consumption of alcoholic beverages in vehicles. The sale of drugs in Elba is not even hidden in some areas and we hope the installation of the 24-hour phone number will assist Elba and Coffee County authorities in cutting down on the problem."

Anyone in the Elba area wishing to report information about a crime may call 897-3881 and the caller will remain anonymous.

Action continues in ConAgra lawsuit

Attorneys appointed to represent the class of grower Plaintiffs in a class action lawsuit against ConAgra, Inc., announced this week that they had been served with a petition to remove the case from the Circuit Court of Coffee County to United States District Court for the Middle District of Alabama, Southern Division.

The suit, based on alleged fraudulent acts of misweighing the growers' chickens, had been scheduled for trial in the Elba division of the Coffee County Circuit Court beginning on Monday, August 22, 1988, but because of the removal action by the defendant, ConAgra, the case cannot be tried as scheduled and will result in another delay in the case, which began in December, 1982.

According to V. Gerald Johnson, Joe S. Pittman and Charles E. Clark, attorneys for the plaintiffs, the case grew out of another lawsuit, in which growers sued ConAgra for fraud and breach of contract.

That case was settled out of court and the terms of the settlement were not disclosed.

ConAgra sued all of its growers in the present suit in which ConAgra admitted it's employees misweighed the chickens delivered to its Enterprise plant from October 1, 1978 until March 31, 1981. The grower class alleges the misweighing occurred over a greater period of time and the growers claim $5 million in compensatory damages and $200 million in punitive damages.

Anytime in the Elba area wishing to report information about a crime may call 897-3881 and the caller will remain anonymous.

Circuit Judge denies motion to dismiss murder charge against Tucker

Coffee County Circuit Judge Gary MacAiley last week denied a motion filed by attorneys of LaDonna Tucker to dismiss the murder charge against the former Coffee County resident.

The attorneys contended that since the actual shooting of Mrs. Tucker's husband took place in Dale County, Coffee County had no jurisdiction in the seven-year-old crime.

In a hearing held on Thursday, July 28, in Troy, Judge MacAiley heard testimony by Douglas Ard, who pleaded guilty to the murder of Sgt. Jimmy Tucker in 1982 and from Bruce DeVane, the chief investigator for the Coffee County District Attorney's Office.

Ard, contradicting earlier testimony, testified that he had acted alone in the shooting of Sgt. Tucker and stated that the shooting had taken place on the Headless Horseman Road, a road that divides Coffee County and Dale County. Ard told the court that the shooting took place in Dale County.

According to DeVane, Ard has given several differing accounts of the shooting, including one in which he accused Mrs. Tucker of the shooting and another in which he testified that he and his brother, Donald Ard, committed the act.

Attorneys for Mrs. Tucker argued that the crime was committed in Dale County, making Mrs. Tucker's first trial in Coffee County in the wrong jurisdiction, which would be grounds for dismissal.

Judge MacAiley granted a motion from defense attorneys to continue the trial for a minimum of sixty days, allowing the attorneys time to properly prepare defense for their client.

The new trial date was set for Dec. 12 and the delay was reportedly granted also to allow the prosecution time to present a material witness in the case. The witness, the former sister-in-law of the Ards, now lives in Alaska and is reported to be pregnant and will be unable to travel until December.

Mrs. Tucker is charged with murder for hire in connection with her husband's death. Her husband, who was stationed at Ft. Rucker, was found in the charred remains of a burned pickup truck near Kinston, but autopsy reports revealed the victim died of a gunshot wound to the chest.

Mrs. Tucker was found guilty of killing her husband and was sentenced to life in prison on March, 1982, but the Alabama Supreme Court reversed the decision in 1984 and returned the case to Coffee County.

A change in venue moved the trial to Pike County, where a trial ended deadlocked on a verdict, resulting in a mistrial.

The scheduled third trial of Mrs. Tucker was set for March 21, 1988, but was postponed when she failed to show. Mrs. Tucker was arrested in Kansas and returned to Alabama, where she is being held in the Coffee County jail under $100,000 bond.

Two Kinston residents arrested for possession of stolen goods

Two Kinston residents have been arrested and charged with receiving stolen property and possession of a vehicle on which the registration number had been obscured in connection with a raid on a residence near Kinston last week.

Tony Pritchard, age 32, and his wife Cheryl Pritchard, age 28, were arrested on Thursday, July 28 and both were taken to the Coffee County jail, in Elba. Mrs. Pritchard was released on a $5,000 bond and Mr. Pritchard was released on a bond of $10,000.

Coffee County Sheriff's Department officials reported the arrest was in connection with the arrest of six people near Kinston on July 24 on charges of cocaine possession and possession of stolen vehicles.

Coffee County Deputy Sheriff Jack Herbert stated that Pritchard had been doing carpentry work at the house on Coffee County Road 6, where some of the arrests were made last weekend. Pritchard also reportedly purchased a 1980 Chevrolet Camaro from one of the residents of the home and the car was discovered to be stolen with the registration numbers altered.

Law enforcement officials estimated the stolen property recovered to have a value of over $100,000.

Deputy Herbert added that the majority of the property found at the site in Coffee County had been positively identified as being stolen and that two of the vehicles found were reported stolen from Maine.

American Legion to meet tonight

The American Legion and Auxiliary, Culver Post 42, Elba, will host the 35th district meeting, consisting of seven southeast Alabama counties, tonight (Thurs., Aug. 4). District Commander Robert Lolley, service officer of Alabama Veteran Affairs, extends an invitation to the meeting. A meal will be served by the Auxiliary.

MARIJUANA DESTROYED Pictured above are fifteen of the illegal plants that were found in Southwest Coffee County Monday by law officers. Deputy Sheriff Buddy Ammons said the plants were spotted from the air in a thickly wooded area of SW Coffee County, near the Covington County line. Ammons said the plants, some eight feet tall, were well hidden from discovery and were even hard to find on foot with direction from a circling aircraft. Pictured with the plants are from left: Deputies Tommy Danley and Buddy Ammons, Enterprise police officer Johnnie Gilmer and State Trooper Ronnie Whitworth.

BLEED THROUGH

BRAINSTORMS

By Ferrin Cox

A couple of weeks ago when lightning struck the courthouse clock, there were two businessmen looking right at the courthouse and saw the whole thing... quickly. David Stokes was getting ready to close his hardware store and was looking out at the weather when the clock was struck. He saw the chunk of the clock fall out and to the ground. Shorty Martin was also looking out of his store on the other side of the square and saw the lightning split the shingles on the clock tower. Both say it happened awful fast. Seeing something like that would make anyone think twice about being out in the weather any time there is a chance of such happening again.

We had a lot of folks bringing us tomatoes this summer; the dry weather didn't bother the gardening experts of Elba. Recently we also were honored to get some mighty good peaches. Winford Baker gave us some and they were delicious. Then Paul Windham took us out to pick some at his farm but made us give them to Hedy as a special present from him! We did as we were told, but since they were for her, we decided not to help with the peeling of any of them. It was had enough to pick them and Windham get all the credit, and I sure wasn't going to peel them while he was getting all that credit for being a nice man!

While wondering why our nation's budget continues to stay out of whack, consider this fact. The Defense Department budget bill, which cleared Congress on July 14 includes "orders" that the Army buy 4,737 10-ton trucks. Now the Army didn't request these trucks... in fact they say they don't even need them! However the chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, Les Aspin, is from Wisconsin where this particular truck is built. Now that is taking care of the home folks if we ever saw it done but at the expense of all American taxpayers.

We watched a beauty contest one night recently... at least the last part of one. We got home and both our sons were sitting glued to the tube and rooting for a particular girl in a national beauty contest. This is very unusual and we went in to see what was happening. Well, there was this Enterprise girl that they were cheering for and to and behold, we wound up joining them as they cheered on Anna Mingus in her good showing in the Miss Teen USA contest. We might be a little biased, but we had her either winning or at least being first runner-up. That is the first time in many a year we have watched a beauty contest on the tube and probably is the last time for a while also. We salute Anna Mingus for a job well done.

This week we are publishing an official list of voters for the City of Elba, along with a map showing the five council wards. We are impressed at the work that has gone into being sure each voter is in the proper ward but we know there are errors. We urge citizens to point out any errors to the ladies at city hall immediately. They tried to be perfect, but then there ain't many of us around like that! Remember, you need to be registered in the district in which you live and vote. Otherwise, you will need the election of your council member to me and others like me.

There was a Baptist preacher preaching at the Methodist Church Sunday evening and we knew it before we left for church services. Doug Dotch, minister of the Elba First Baptist, got the honors for the fifth Sunday exchange between the two churches and us Methodists got a good sermon. We have long said that those Baptist ain't all bad! Pat McFadden, former pastor at First Baptist, had already set some local folks up to tell him if this country boy failed to show on the night the Baptists were preaching in the Methodist Church, but we fixed him this time... we were there.

We tried to do a little fishing on a recent afternoon... that is late afternoon, after it began to cool off a bit. Well, the first time we tried everything went okay even though we didn't get a whole lot of fish. Then the next evening we were going to try again right where we had left off but just as we stepped toward the boat with a box of buckets in our hand, the wind came pouring in, followed by a bit of thunder and a dark cloud. Folks, that was enough for this brave soul and we didn't fish that day. Our fishing has since been limited to listening to some good stories of people catching the limit and one or two admitting they went over the legal limit a bit. Shame, shame!

Miller - Plagenhoef Wedding

Dr. Michelle Miller and Dr. Jeffrey Scott Plagenhoef were united in marriage on Saturday, June 4, at seven o'clock in the evening at First Baptist Church of Enterprise.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jones Wallace Miller Sr. of Enterprise.

Parents of the groom are Dr. and Mrs. David Lee Koth of Birmingham, and Dr. Richard Lee Plagenhoef of Kalamazoo, Mich.

A program of wedding music was presented by Dr. T. Bob Davis of Dallas, Tex. Vocalists were Mrs. Emmett T. Brunson and LTC Henry L. Quisenberry of Enterprise.

Vocal selections included: "The Wedding Prayer" by Dunlap; "The Greatest of These is Love" by Cates; "My Tribute" by Crouch; "Bless This Union" by Brahe and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

The mothers were seated to "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" by J.S. Bach. Attendants entered to "Trumpet Voluntary in D Major" by Purcell. The fanfare and bridal march was "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner. The recessional was Mendelssohn's Wedding March from "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

The sanctuary was decorated with arrangements of rubrum lilies, peonies, carnations, gladioli and chrysanthemums in white and shades of pink. Magnolia foliage adorned the brass wedding candleabra and ficus greenery was intertwined in the candleabra in the chancel area.

Each window displayed a floral design in the bridal colors and centered with a burning taper atop a traditional hurricane shade.

Family pews were marked with burning tapers and arrangements of miniature carnations, gerbera daisies, gypsophila, greenery and ribbons in shades of pink.

Guests registered at twin round tables in the foyer of the church. These tables were skirted and overlaid in ivory organza edged with lace. Brass candlesticks, topped by hurricane shades and encircled by garlands of roses, miniature carnations and ribbons, decorated the tables.

Miss Allison Chancy of Arlington, Va., and Miss Victoria Talmadge-Sessions of Tuscaloosa registered the guests.

The sanctuary doors were decorated with foliage and ribbon designs, and large garden urns filled with pink and green calladiums flanked the entranceway.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a candlelight gown designed by Iliana. The floor-length fitted sheath gown was of alencon lace re-embroidered with crystal beads, pearls and iridescent sequins. It featured a high Victorian neckline and long sleeves of satin with lace re-embroidered at the elbow and ending in points at the wrist.

Refreshment tables were skirted in candlelight tulle and overlaid with pink satin cloths which were caught up at intervals with ivory satin bows. Each table was lighted from beneath, softly radiating a glow in the darkness.

The round, mirrored-top bride's table held an ivory frosted three-tiered wedding cake bedecked with roses, rubrum lilies, lisianthus and miniature carnations. It was surrounded by five round, double-layered cakes adorned with the same flowers as the wedding cake. Crystal votive cups with votive candles surrounded the cakes.

The groom's cake was a chocolate mousse confection. The three tiers were decorated with cascades of fresh fruit. Brass appointments complemented the setting.

Massive arrangements of rubrum lilies, peonies, carnations, lisianthus, miniature gladioli, gerbera daisies, lilies and snapdragons graced two of the refreshment tables.

Wicker baskets on stands, holding arrangements of similar flowers, adorned adjacent refreshment tables. The garden was lighted with electric park lamps and Japanese lanterns hung in the Chinese Tallow tree which centered the formal flower beds.

The scientists are flying over cotton fields and dropping plane loads of little canisters filled with sterile boll weevils. They figure the sex-craved creatures will mate madly but no offspring will follow to damage cotton the following year.

Now there's just no telling what I would have given to have gotten hold of a shipment of those sterile boll weevils when I was a kid. But because Daddy wasn't informed on the insect's love life we spent summers and early falls battling the destructive pests that threatened every year to rob us of our entire cotton crop.

But Daddy Didn't Know About Boll Weevil's Love Life Back Then

By: Faye Brown Moundville, Ala.

It seems that cotton is making a comeback in the South. Much of the credit goes to insect experts called entomologists who've given their lives to the study of boll weevils.

They've learned how to kill the pests by starving 'em out for winter's hibernation. And they've figured out how to lure them, permanently, into little perfume traps (with Passion, My Sin, or some such fragrance - I'm not sure). But most importantly, they've brought the insects' love life out of the closet.

The scientists are flying over cotton fields and dropping plane loads of little canisters filled with sterile boll weevils. They figure the sex-craved creatures will mate madly but no offspring will follow to damage cotton the following year.

Now there's just no telling what I would have given to have gotten hold of a shipment of those sterile boll weevils when I was a kid. ### THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Mularz, Editor

I enjoy football and always look forward to "Picture Day" because it gives me a chance to talk with the players and coaches and get an idea of what kind of year the various schools have in store. Sunny weather is imperative at picture day, but sunny weather in August means temperatures in the 90's and that means it's hot for not only the players, but also the photographers. Oh well, I guess I can always wear shorts!

READ ABOUT YOUR FAVORITE TEAMS

If you've been in the grocery store lately and checked out the magazine rack or picked up a daily newspaper in the past two weeks you've noticed articles about all your favorite teams, whether it be pro, college or high school. I like to read about the high school teams because I cover high school sports as part of my job as editor (it's therapy after attending commission meetings) and always want to know who's going to be the teams to watch. This year I've been amused at the coaches, because it seems they all have rebuilding years ahead. If you believe the coaches, there won't be any good teams to be found, which means the losers will have plenty of company and the playoffs will feature a bunch of new teams!

Well, you can believe what you want, but I for one expect every school in the county to have good teams and don't believe a word of what the coaches are saying.

HANGING UP THE SPIKES FOR THE SUMMER

Before hanging up the spikes for the summer I need to mention that several Elba players travelled to Mobile recently to compete with the Tri-County All-Stars in the advanced Babe Ruth state tourney and even though the team failed to win a game, the players all played well and represented their cities as ambassadors. The league has been in existence for a number of years and it is hoped that next summer it will be bigger and better than ever and give local baseball players a chance to travel and show their talents.

LET'S QUIT PICKING ON THE ATHLETES!

A lot of people were a little surprised last week when Auburn coach Pat Dye publicly blasted SEC officials for adopting new and stricter guidelines dealing with the signing of high school athletes. I'm not a Pat Dye fan and I'll admit he may have stepped on some toes, but he did touch on a subject that needs to be looked at before rules are passed by various agencies that will cripple the world of interscholastic athletics!

I agree that high school athletes should not receive any special favors and should have to meet the same academic standards of other students; however, why should athletes be singled out when it comes to making a certain grade in class?

This year all high school athletes must pass a minimum of five new academic courses with an average grade of 70 to be eligible to participate in sports. This isn't a bad rule, but why single out the high school athlete? A member of the band, color guard or club only has to be in school to participate, they don't even have to pass five courses, much less have an average of 70 on the academic courses!

Rules are fine and there is nothing wrong with making sure the students make good grades, but let's put the rules in effect for all the students and make the students have an average of 70 and pass five courses each and every year to take part in any extracurricular activity, not just athletics. C'mon folks, fair is fair!

IN CLOSING....

I know that softball has all but ended; however, if you like to watch softball there are still a few games around to quench your appetite. A Co-Ed League plays every Monday night at Damascus and it is fun to watch the men and women compete on the same team, while here in Elba the church league is ready to start and the league is really what having fun is all about. If you're a softball fan there is still action to be found!

Greg Hanchey signs baseball scholarship with L.B. Wallace

Greg Hanchey, a three-year starter for the Elba Tiger baseball team, has signed a baseball scholarship with Lurleen B. Wallace Junior College, in Andalusia.

Hanchey, a shortstop with the Tigers, was recruited by LBW as a second baseman and is expected to play as a freshman with the Saints, the 1988 Alabama Junior College champions.

"Greg was a tremendous baseball player at Elba and I have no doubts he will continue to excel at LBW," stated Elba baseball coach Rick Rainer. "I am proud Greg got a chance to play ball in junior college and think perhaps his signing will open some doors for other baseball players in Elba. Greg has the talent to play and I know he'll do well."

LBW lost a couple of infielders off last year's team," said Hanchey, "and I think I'll get a shot at playing as a freshman. The biggest adjustment I expect in college will be the pitching. I played American Legion ball this summer and saw a lot of good pitchers, so, I hope I'll be ready."

Former Elba resident catches 84 pound catfish and state record

Former Elba resident Dennis Johnson made the news in Athens and across the state recently when he caught an 84-pound catfish that may break both the state and national record.

Johnson's blue catfish, caught near the Brown's Ferry Nuclear Plant on the Tennessee River, was 4 feet, 7 inches long and had a girth of 39 inches.

Johnson reported that he was using an Ambassador reel with 25-pound test line and using cut bait when he made the now famous catch.

"When it first hit it was nibbling like a little fish," Johnson told a north Alabama newspaper. "I waited for it to take it and when I set the hook the fish jerked my rod way down. I had already loosened the drag so you could just pull it with two fingers because three other fish had already broken my line. I thumbed the drag to keep pressure on the fish and I just headed him out and tried to keep him out of my motor. I just more or less had to hold on. I just had to keep enough pressure on the fish until he gave out. Once I got him to the boat I tried to stick my hand in his gills because I didn't want to let go of the road, but I couldn't do that. Finally he gave out to the point where he rolled up on his belly and I took a cord I had on the boat and stuck it in his gill plate. He was so big I had to see-saw him into the boat."

"There's no doubt in my mind that this isn't the biggest fish out there," said Johnson. "I don't think I'd be exaggerating the point to say there are catfish out there that weigh 150 pounds. It wouldn't surprise me if somebody broke the record tomorrow, but I hope they don't."

Dennis is the son of Mrs. Margaret Johnson and the late Irvin Johnson.

42 players greet Elba coaches for opening day of fall football practice at Elba High

The Elba Tigers opened preseason football practice on Monday, August 1 and although Coach Mack Wood called the players "lean and skinny," he was pleased with the condition of the team as a whole.

"We had a total of 42 players take part Monday," said Wood, "and while that was three less than we expected, the nucleus of the club was present and we're ready to get to work. Monday was primarily a day for getting organized as we issued equipment, outlined the practice schedule and got all the players in the positions we need them the most. We'll have more kids going both ways since I've been here, but we're committed to having our best players on the field at all times and we'll just have to be tough and play football."

The Tigers will work out in shorts for three days and then put on the pads in preparation for the August 26 opener against Cottonwood.

Boys urged to register for youth football league teams in Elba

All boys ages 6-13 who wish to play Youth Football this fall should sign up prior to the August 25 deadline.

Elba's Troy Sanders anxious to help FSU claim NCAA football crown

When Elba's Troy Sanders packed his bags last weekend for the trip to Tallahassee to join the Florida State Seminoles, the two-time All-State defensive lineman was confident that a knee he had injured lifting weights had healed and that if needed he could step in and help the Seminoles win the 1988 NCAA national championship.

Sanders, a 6-4, 270-pounder with the strength and quickness to play major college football, chose to attend Florida State over such powers as Auburn, Memphis State and UT-Chattanooga and reported to the Seminole camp this Monday to begin preparation for the upcoming season.

Sanders, as well as the FSU coaches, were concerned earlier in the spring when the muscular lineman tore cartilage in his left knee while lifting weights and required orthoscopic surgery. The surgery and rehabilitation program forced Sanders to pull out of the Alabama-Mississippi All-Star game, but after looking back at the injury and the months since, Sanders is convinced that the setback will make him a better and more dedicated football player in college.

"The knee was operated on April 29," said Sanders, "and while the doctors assured me it would heal totally, it put some fear in my mind and made me realize that I must be careful whatever I do. I injured the knee doing squats at a gym in Enterprise and it was just one of those things that happened. I went back to the doctor several times and on June 21 he gave the okay to begin running sprints and doing the squats. I am a little behind on conditioning and I lost a little strength, but I know I can regain my quickness and strength once I get back on a schedule and there is no doubt that I'll be ready once they put on the pads."

"I missed eight weeks of doing squats because of the injury," added

Sanders, "and the squats are what I need to work on the most because of being a noseguard. My strength increased in my upper body because I could still bench-press and do other exercises, but the lower body is important and I am working hard to get back to where I was, which is squatting 605 pounds."

When asked about the All-Star game, Sanders said he was disappointed at not getting to play, but felt being around other college-caliber players made him realize that being from a small school didn't mean he wasn't as good as other high schoolers.

"There were a lot of big name players down in Mobile," reported Sanders, "and it was obvious they deserved the attention they had received; however, I had no doubt I was in the same class as they were and feel like I have just as much potential as any player at the game. It was a good game and it did the players good to get out in front of the scouts, but until the players dedicate themselves to giving it their all the games may not be as exciting as the fans would like."

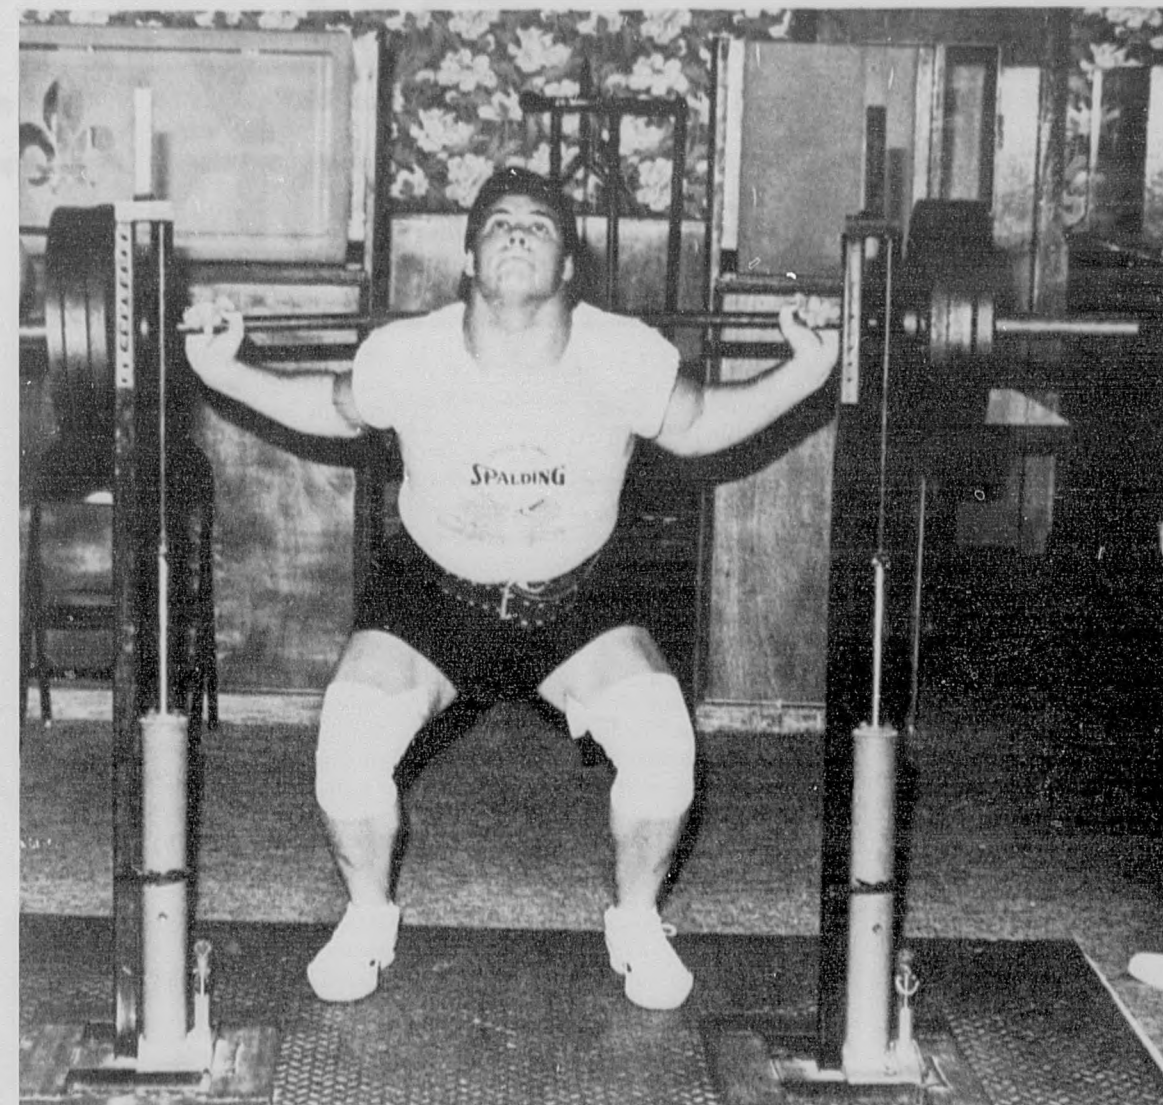

As a member of the Seminoles, Sanders is convinced that he will play on a national championship team before his college days are over. "I think Florida State will win a national championship very soon," said Sanders, "and I want to be a part of the excitement! At high school we finished second twice and even though I knew we had the best team in the state we didn't have a ring to show for it and other people didn't know it. With the people at Florida State I know we can win the national title and I know I can help the team get there. I feel like I am better suited to play noseguard in college than in the offensive line and one of the reasons I went to Florida State was because they assured me I would get a shot on defense. I am not as tall as many college linemen, but I am as strong as anybody I'll line up against and am confident I can play at the college level."

The coaches at Florida State have mentioned a possible red-shirt, "stated the former Elba Tiger standout, "and it won't disappoint me if I do get red-shirted. A player who gets red-shirted still gets to work with the team and do all the things the players do, except play on Saturdays. I want to play as a freshman; however, if I am red-shirted I'll make the best of it and still have four more years to play college ball."

When asked to look back to his days in high school, Sanders stated that while Elba won over 30 games in his three years with the Tigers, he left with a feeling of what could have been.

"My tenth grade year we lost in the finals to Alexandria and they whipped us pretty good," remembered Sanders, "and then my junior year we lost in the finals again to Crossville and you'll never convince me that we weren't better! Last year we got knocked out by UMS and while they were good, I know we were the best team in the state. I guess that coming so close so many times has left a bad taste in my mouth, but I enjoyed my years in Elba and will always be an Elba Tiger!"

NO PAIN, NO GAIN... Troy Sanders was a familiar face in area weight rooms during the summer as he worked on his strength in preparation for his freshman year as a member of the Florida State Seminoles. Sanders hopes to break the FSU record on the squat and also earn a spot on the Seminole roster for the '88 season.

KNEES GET EXTRA WORK... Troy Sanders has given special attention to his knees during workouts this summer and expects to be at full speed when freshmen report later this week. The 270-pound lineman underwent knee surgery after his senior season at Elba, but is reported to be 100 percent recovered and will report to FSU in the best shape of his life.

FAMILY TALK

GLENN M. FRAZIER
Community Resource Specialist

Coffee County Department, of Human Resources

We hear a lot of talk these days about setting priorities. We are told to set priorities in our jobs and in our personal lives, and we do so in our family lives and our recreational time.

Rather than having so many things to remember and so many different priorities to juggle, could we put all the priorities under some broad topics and let this apply in all areas of our lives.

Give this some serious thought. What would you do if you had a magic lamp and a genie appeared and granted you three wishes? These wishes could be as far out and wild as we desire, as insane or as serious.

What would you wish for happiness? You must keep in mind that for all the rest of your life, you must live with the consequences of these wishes.

Would you wish for happiness - use the wishes well and happiness will automatically come to you.

Would you wish for wealth - perhaps a genie would give you wealth but not exactly as you had imagined. The wealth then might spoil the happiness. It could become a burden.

I think my three wishes would be for good health, inner peace and wisdom. Good health would allow prosperity in the job place and good health with family. Inner peace would provide self-security and true happiness. Wisdom would allow good choices and good decisions.

If you have the wisdom to make good choices, you will have real friends, good family relationships and the ability to bring contentment in any area of your life.

For more information, call me at 897-3424, or write to me in care of Coffee County Dept. of Human Resources, P.O. Box 448, Elba, Alabama 36623.

Round And About With ERIA

397-2006

***Listen to me, my son. I know what I am saying. Listen! Watch yourself, lest you be like a prostitute as sweet as honey, and smooth flattery is her stock in trade. But afterwards only a bitter conscience is left to you, sharp as a double-edged sword.

She leads you down to death and hell. For she does not know the path to life. She staggers down a crooked trail, and doesn't even realize where it leads.

Young men, listen to me, and never forget what I am about to say. Run from her! Don't go to her house, lest you fall to her temptation and lose honor, and give the remainder of your life to the cruel and merciless. Prov. 5:1-9.

***Thinking of you, praying for you: the Belcher and Carpenter families, Mrs. Buford Kelley, Mrs. Jean Johnson, Mr. Wallace Belcher, Mrs. Nannie Kelley, Mrs. Maxine Holder, Mrs. Mary Jackson, Mrs. Fritz Berry, Mr. John Waters.

Homecoming and revival will be held at St. Mark Baptist Church, Rev. Ben Matthews, pastor, Aug. 7-12, with services to begin at 7:30 each evening.

Evangelist will be Rev. Clanton Seymour, pastor Greater Peace Baptist Church, Ft. Walton Beach, Fla. Sunday School will be at 10 a.m., followed by regular morning worship at 11.

The 3 p.m. welcome will be by Sis. Nadine Cowart, with sermon by Rev. M. Parker, pastor, Good Ship Baptist Church, Millbrook, Ala.

Program committee: Sis. Judy Wood, Sis. Johnnie P. Wood, Bro. Sylvester Borden.

***Mr. Durward Bullard, Beaver Falls, Pa., is spending the summer with his sister, Mrs. Annette Brunson, Elba.

***Grover and Eria Belcher visited Verne Barnes, Wallace and Mattie Belcher, Leo and Wilma Henderson, all of Elba, Sunday afternoon.

***Ernestine Kelley, Vera Williams and Eria Belcher attended the Emory Moore family reunion last Sunday, albeit late!

Moore Family Reunion Held

The place was the home of Mr. Emory Moore Sr., Elba. The time was Sunday, July 31, and the occasion the Emory Moore reunion.

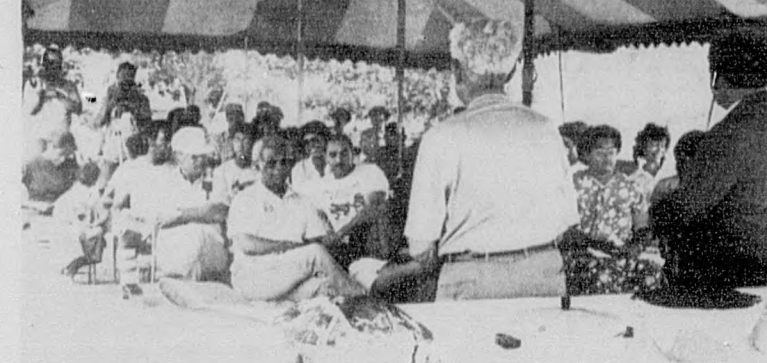

Relatives came from West Virginia, Tallahassee, Fla.; Atlanta, Ga.; Kaiserslautern, Germany; Birmingham, Ala.; Decatur, Ga.; Michigan, New Jersey and New York.

The first Moore reunion was held in July, 1973. The idea was Mr. Emory's and it is a grand tradition.

Before lunch, dinner and what-else, Rev. J.L. Gray gave the invocation and Mrs. Viola Gray led an appropriate song. For some reason barbecue and reunions go well together.

Members of the family were wearing beautiful blue and white T-shirts with a picture of Mr. Emory on the front and the words "Emory Moore Sr. Family Reunion, 1988." These were designed by Esta Moore, daughter of the late Emory Moore Jr., and this year the reunion and community get-together was held in honor of Emory Jr.

The children are: James, Saginaw, Mich.; Josie Jackson and Billy Joe, Piscataway, N.J.; Lucile Gaines, Birmingham; and Nathaniel, Rockaway, N.J.; daughters-in-law: Eloise, Louise and Quennie; sons-in-law, Larry Gaines and Clarence Jackson; 27 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Moore wanted his family to be with him for each reunion - and what Mr. Moore wanted Mr. Moore got.

Friends and relatives from Elba and surrounding areas were there to help make this occasion what it was meant to be. They met to ponder, to eat, to laugh, to reminisce and have a good time - during this special time of fellowship.

It was a good day, a rewarding day, and the words "glad you came, come again, don't forget to call, see you next year, the Lord willing" were spoken to all as they left.

God bless you and all your family, Mr. Moore. Eria

***Sgt. and Mrs. Richard Brunson (Denecae), Ft. Hood, Tex., were guests of Mrs. Annette Brunson of Elba, and other family members during the week of July 4.

***Lashawn Wardell of Georgia is residing in the home of Mrs. Annette Brunson, Elba, his step-grandmother.

God Bless all! ERIA

Watermelon Time

It's the peak of watermelon-eating time in Coffee County. Don't be concerned about the pesticide and watermelon problem in the West - the Alabama Department of Agriculture assures us there's no danger from Alabama watermelons. When choosing a watermelon, remember the old standbys such as shaking and tapping melons don't work. The surface should be relatively smooth, while the rind should have a slight dullness. The ends of the melon should be filled out and rounded. Look for a creamy color on the underside of the melon, also.

The best way to but a good watermelon is to get one that's cut. Look for firm, juicy flesh with a good red color. It should be free of white streaks and have dark brown or black seeds.

Avoid melons with pale-colored flesh, white streaks or white heart and whitish seeds, since these indicate immaturity. Also avoid dry, mealy flesh or watery, stringy flesh, which are signs of over-maturity or aging after harvest.

Low - Cost Vacations

Some of you may have decided not to take a vacation this year because of the cost involved. However, by doing some creative thinking and planning, you can manage a family vacation on as little as $50 or $100.

First, you get your family together and make a list of possible vacations. For example, you may want to consider one or more mini-vacations. If you use your home as a base, you can eliminate the cost of overnight lodging, and minimize food cost by packing a picnic. Also consider visiting friends or relatives in other locations. It can extend your travel fund if your friends or relatives provide lodging. This arrangement can work well if you're sensitive to their needs and don't overstay your welcome.

Next, determine the amount of money available for your vacation, and calculate your transportation costs. After you've determined the money available for transportation, identify what you can see and do within that limit.

To plan mini-vacations, take a map and draw a circle around your home to represent the distance you can travel on the money available, or the distance you can go and return in one day. Within the circle, make a list of all the vacation, recreation, or historical spots that you'd like to visit. Contact Chambers of Commerce and automobile clubs, or visit the library for more information on these sites.

Finally, rank these areas according to places you most want to visit. You'll be surprised at the number of vacation ideas in your own backyard.

Water Safety

Cruising down the river or lake this summer without your life-jacket can be embarrassing, expensive, or deadly. It's embarrassing to be stopped and lectured by the water patrol for not wearing one. It's expensive to be fined for not having one. And, it can be deadly if you're not wearing it or don't have it when you suddenly need it.

The law requiring you to wear a life jacket when in a boat, canoe or on a raft was designed to save lives. If you obey the law, it can help save your life.

Peanuts

Foliage feeders seem to be the most obvious pests in peanuts now. Small worms, mostly the corn earworm, can be seen "ragging" new terminal growth. Since corn earworm moths are on the increase, we should be at the front end of our July cycle of worms. Reports from all across Coffee County indicate that cutworms and in some fields high levels of beet armyworms are also causing severe defoliation.

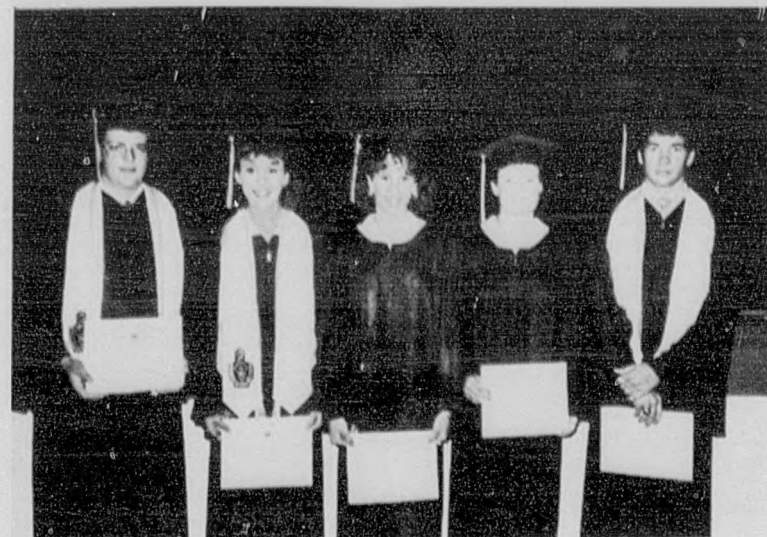

Since beet armyworms are extremely difficult to control, it is very important to correctly identify those worms.

We continue to see white mold popping up in older fields and within a week or so we will see lots of leafspot. Scouting continue to see to-mato spotted wilt virus. If you find a field with an extremely high level of tomato spotted wilt virus, let some of us know.

Leafminers

Leafminers have been a spotty but serious pest on several vegetable crops this year. Peas, beans and cucumbers have been heavily damaged in some areas. Light leafminers damage usually does not affect yield and is usually brought under control by natural beneficial insects. Outbreaks of leafminers can be induced by excessive spraying which eliminates these beneficials. The leafminer larvae feeds inside the leaf tissue and is well protected from insecticides. Leafminer controls are directed at the adults.

By the time you notice heavy leafminer tunneling, it may be too late to prevent damage to those leaves. Proper fertilization and irrigation may stimulate enough regrowth to prevent serious yield loss. To protect new growth or subsequent plantings in areas where leafminers have already caused ESJC SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS -- (L-R): Lance Russell, Denise Ezell, Karen Renee Hataway, Tracey Daugherty and DeWayne Davis, all 1988 graduates of Kinston High School, will be attending Enterprise State Junior College on scholarships this fall.

Kinston Students Receive Scholarships To Enterprise State

Five 1988 graduates of Kinston High School have been awarded scholarships to Enterprise State Junior College this fall. They are Lance Russell, Denise Ezell, Karen Renee Hataway, Tracey Daugherty, and Donald DeWayne Davis.

Lance, the son of Larry and Linda Russell, graduated third in his class at Kinston High, and will be attending ESJC on the E.L. Gibson Foundation Scholarship given through the ESJC Foundation.

He was the 1987 Boys State delegate, DAR Good Citizen and a winner at the Alabama State Science and Engineering Fair.

Denise, daughter of Donald and Barbara Ezell, was salutatorian of her graduating class, and the recipient of an academic scholarship to ESJC. She was a member of Senior Elite, Honors Club and scholastic award for volleyball and cheerleading. She plans to study radiology.

Karen is the daughter of James R. and Elaine Hataway and will be attending ESJC on a performing arts scholarship. The communications major was the MVP of the KHS girls softball team and captain of the volleyball team.

The daughter of Jimmy and Barbara Daugherty, Tracey is the recipient of a softball scholarship at ESJC. She was captain of the girls softball and basketball teams.

DeWayne is the son of Earl and Gloria Davis and graduated as valedictorian. He will be attending ESJC on an academic scholarship where he will be taking general studies classes this fall.

Okra

I heard a tip on okra that I would like to pass along to you. If you have plants that are extremely large and have slowed down on bearing, go in and cut them off about 6 inches from the ground. These plants will sucker out and it will be like a new planting of okra. This will cause the plants to start fruiting and will be easier to harvest.

ELECT JEFF BIMBO MAYOR OF ELBA

The Reason That I Seek
The Office Of Mayor Is To Secure The Future For Our Children!

Without retaining our most valuable asset, our people, ELBA will dwindle in size and become like other cities that have not made long range plans for employment and social activities for their citizens.

I have the experience, vision and energy to set ELBA on a course that will allow our city to progress towards becoming one of the most desired places to live and work in Alabama.

I make no promises except to do the best that I can do to make ELBA a better place to live.

My pledge to you is that if during my term in office our city has shown no signs of improvement or progress, I could not and would not seek a second term as mayor.

All that I ask is an opportunity to serve as ....

YOUR mayor.

SLOW DOWN AND TAKE YOUR TIME

So many comments were made about this article, I wanted to share it with you again. Perhaps someone will see it who did not see it before.

"Stop and Smell the Roses Along the Way" - Of course, we all know this does not mean we are all going to run out in search of the nearest rose garden. We know this is telling us to slow our pace and take time to appreciate what is all around us. Yet, how many of us really do this -- and have you given this same piece of advice to someone who seems to be on a runaway train?

We rush here and we rush there because what is "here" is necessary and what is "there" is necessary. Is it really necessary, or is the necessary in our minds?

We get caught up in the "I must do" things in life; so many of these things are not really that pressing. The next time a "necessary" or "I must" comes up, ask yourself what is the worst thing that could happen if you do not do this thing.

Obviously there are some things in this life that cannot be left undone, but there are a multitude of things that will not make a hill of beans difference if we coast rather than rush.

Let's all get off at the corner of "necessary and must" and take the buggy ride along the avenue of "slow and easy." Your overall attitude will improve, and you will find some things about yourself you want to change up a bit.

Perhaps you will stop and realize that you are not perfect and cannot be all things to all people - no matter how much you rush here and there to do the "necessaries" and "musts."

For more information, call me at 897-3424, or write to me at Coffee County Dept. of Human Resources, P.O. Box 448, Elba, AL 36323.

Thought: Stop and smell the roses along the way.

The Elba Clipper

VOLUME 92

25 CENTS

THURSDAY, AUGUST 11, 1988

1 SECTION 14 PAGES

NUMBER 6

MORE WORK ON PRIVATE PROPERTY was reported to the newspaper last Thursday morning. This project apparently is not as completely wrong as some others could be. Several different versions were given to this newspaper and we have chosen to present the words of the property owner. She explained that the city trucks tore a hole in her drive months ago when removing a limb from a large oak tree endangering a power line. She asked that they repair the hole and all agreed it was the city's responsibility since their work caused the problem. She added that this was all she asked for but when they spilled more asphalt out than was needed, they had to spread it out or leave her drive in a worse mess. Therefore by the time the photographer arrived, about three-fourths of the drive had been resurfaced. This varies somewhat from what city employees say as at times they told representatives of this newspaper that the city trucks tore the hole, did other damage including breaking off all along the edge and some other worn spots near the street. City workers failed to make any reference to accidentally spilling extra asphalt.

Jaycees Plan To Feature Candidates
For Mayor In Public Forum

The Elba Jaycees Mayoral Forum will be held August 16, 1988 at 7:30 p.m. in the Elba High School Auditorium.

At press time the Jaycees indicate they have received a positive reaction from each of the five candidates for mayor of Elba and all will be participating in the event.

The group has released the following format for the event:

- *There will be an initial three minutes per candidate allowing each to state qualifications etc.
- *Candidates will then pick a question by drawing a 3 X 5 index card from a box. Each question will be typed and in a sealed envelope. It is possible for more than one candidate to get the same question, as five copies of each will be prepared.

The candidate will draw the question, read it to himself and pass it to the mediator who will read it aloud. The candidate then has two minutes in which to respond. A bell will ring after two minutes to end the answering of that question.

*Each candidate will answer five questions and after each candidate has answered the five questions, they will then be given five minutes to answer the audience's questions which they were unable to address previously.

*The mediator will then accept questions from the floor for any pointed election officials for the upcoming city elections. A legal notice appears elsewhere in this issue of The Elba Clipper listing these officials.

Mayor Bob English told council members of the major items causing the bills to exceed the sixteen thousand. They included League of Municipalities dues of $920; chemicals at $1772; bush hog repair at $1095; telephone bill of $656.00; street sweeper repair at $2024.00.

Voting Machine Ready For Practice

VOTING MACHINE HELP is available to Elba voters at the Elba City Hall. Above Collis Parrish, who is responsible for maintaining and setting up the machines explains that there is actually an Elba ballot in this machine for people to practice on at their convenience. City employees are available to help potential voters and to assist with the registration of unregistered voters. It can all be done in city hall.

Municipal voters are urged to find out the ward in which they reside and just where residents in that ward are assigned to vote. There are still voters who aren't aware that they have a new place to vote in city elections, following the federal lawsuit allowing for single member districts. Registered voters can check the voter's list published in the last issue of The Elba Clipper to determine their ward. Newly registered voters can find out from the supplemental list to be published in the August 18 issue of the newspaper or by checking with city hall.

Ward 1 residents will vote at the old Mulberry school; Ward 2 voters will vote at the Army Reserve Center on Claxton Avenue; Ward 3 voters will vote in the recreation building at the old city pool, just across the river bridge; Ward 4 voters will cast their ballots at the public library; and Ward 5 citizens will vote at the National Guard Armory on Airport Road.

Handicap ramps are being prepared at each of these facilities and there will be one voting machine at each location. There is also one located at city hall prior to the election to benefit those who want to practice with the machines. Someone in city hall will be available to explain the working of the machine.

Elba School Board Reviews Money

The Elba City School Board met Tuesday evening in a meeting postponed from last Thursday. Such a delay is not unusual when the meeting falls early in the month and the financial reports are not ready.

A review of the financial statement revealed a drop in ending balance of the General Fund of $20,000 but after Superintendent Lamar Foley reviewed the statement, board members were satisfied that the amount was for pre-approved one time expenditures. They also noted the balance was much larger than the $21,000 they had at the beginning of school one year ago.

A report of the status of the child nutrition program was presented by Roland Powell who noted the summer feeding program operated by the school for the City of Elba had been a success. He said they served 19,343 meals in forty days, for an average of 483 a day and it could be larger next year with a little more effort and planning.

Powell also reported on the opening of bids for supplies in the lunchrooms for the coming year. Milk and bread will be cheaper next year by 14% and 12% respectively. Meats will vary, with pork down 7% and beef up 6%. Chicken and fish will remain stable while vegetables will be up 12% to 15%. The milk will be bought from Dairy Fresh, the bread from Flowers Baking Co. who will use USDA furnished flour. Elba Packing Co. W. J. Powell and Springfield Foods will supply the other needed foods.

The School Board accepted a recommendation that the price of meals remain the same for the next year. Powell explained that even though the overall cost would be up, the financial condition of the funds and some expected help from government commodities will enable them to hold the price this year.

A letter of appreciation was approved for Mrs. Ernestine Ellenburg, who retired after eighteen years and three months with the lunchrooms.

Foley told board members that all three schools had received a good report following the annual audit performed by a CPA. This is funds not funneled through the central office, but generated and kept by the individual schools.

Bill Rayborn was returned to the ranks of assistant coaches following several years when he dropped out to be able to watch a son play ball. The board also hired Donna McCollough to teach social studies. She is a native of Enterprise.

The board heard a request from the City of Elba that an old block building at Mulberry be torn down because it has become an eyesore. The board members noted they had no opposition to this if the city would remove it at no cost to the board.

After a lengthy discussion of the many problems with funding etc. the board tabled any action on the amount charged for using school buses off their regular route. Presently the records call for charging 50¢ a mile plus the pay of the driver. However, Foley said that in actual practice, nothing was being charged for mileage.

Liability insurance for school buses was purchased from Pinkard and Sharpless at a price of $2932.50, a saving of over $1,000 from the previous year when the insurance was bought from a special state school board trust fund. Liability insurance for personnel, including board members, teachers and students will continue to be bought from the trust fund at a cost of about $2758.00.

New Driver Ed Car Received By Local High School Staffers

Elba High School has received a 1988 Chevrolet Spectrum from Chevrolet to further students' automotive mechanic careers.

Nearly 6,000 brand-new passenger cars and trucks, damaged by accidents, floods or other mishaps on their way to dealer showrooms, have been donated to schools for in-class industrial purposes.

Richard E. Lannen, Chevrolet's

Sales Manager-Service & Customer Satisfaction, stated that in the past 15 years most of the 50 states have received these free vehicles for their vocational/education programs.

The Chevrolet program also includes donated cars or passenger cars and truck engines, transmissions, tools and various major automotive components used for testing and development.

Elba High School received the car with the aid of Cook Chevrolet of Elba.
